

The Black Peak Challenge

Saturday June 10th 2017,
Crickhowell,
The Black Mountains

The Challenge for 2017 is to walk up the Black Mountains to the highest point Waun Fach (811m), scaling Crug Hywel (500m) and Pen Cerrig-cach (700m), on the way. It is going to be an amazing day!

Our aim this year is to support the DEC East African Appeal. We have the opportunity as a strong community to come together and do something critical and rewarding.

At least 15 million are at risk of imminent starvation. The head of the Disasters Emergency Committee is stating that "more than 800,000 children under 5 are now facing starvation and will die soon if we do not reach them and act quickly." Without a massive effort there will be many deaths in Africa, but we have chance to help stop it.

You can join us for a tough 8 hour hike in the Brecon Beacons reaching 811 meters above sea level on 10 June, you can do your own thing, or make a donation right now! Contact Liz or Phil Radford at WOTNOFOOD@OUTLOOK.COM to register for the Black Peak Challenge. All we ask is that you raise £50 each through sponsorship and there is no entry fee.

So hike for 8 hours, great pubs, great views, fantastic Welsh bacon breakfast and less than an hours drive from Avonmouth.

You can donate at our community just giving page.
